DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

I. Group I, claims 17-27 are drawn to a cosmetic method of treating human skin by delivering an estrogenic component to said skin, the method comprising applying to the skin a composition containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle.

II. Group II, claim 28 is drawn to a method of treating or preventing vaginal dryness comprising applying to the vaginal epithelium a composition containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle.

III. Group III, claim 29 is drawn to a method of promoting wound healing comprising applying to the wounded tissue or to tissue in the vicinity of the wound a composition containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle.

Art Unit: 4173

IV. Group IV, claim 30 is drawn to a method of treating or preventing acne comprising applying to the skin affected by acne or that is at risk of being affected by acne a composition containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle.

V. Group V, claims 31-32 are drawn to a skin care composition for topical administration containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II, III, IV, and V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features.

An international application should relate to only one invention or, if there is more than one invention, the inclusion of those inventions in one international application is only permitted if all inventions are so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (PCT Rule 13.1). With respect to a group of inventions claimed in an international application, unity of invention exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features.

The expression "special technical features" is defined in PCT Rule 13.2 as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. The determination is made on the contents of the claims as interpreted in light of the description and drawings. Whether or not any specific technical feature makes a "contribution" over the prior art, and therefore constitutes a "special technical feature", should be considered with respect to novelty and inventive step.

In this instant application, the common technical feature in all groups is the skin care composition containing an estrogenic component and a cosmetically acceptable vehicle. This composition cannot be said to be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because this composition is shown in the prior art.

In this case, Shah (Shah, Am. J. Clin. Dermatol. 2001, Vol. 3, No. 2 pgs. 143-150, already cited by applicant and filed with a 1449 IDS) disclosed the use of percutaneous estradiol gel in the art (inherently containing thickeners that are cosmetically acceptable vehicles) and its subsequent effects on skin thickness (see page 145, column 1, lines 4-7). As a result, no special technical features exist among the different groups because the inventions in Groups I-V fail to make a contribution over the prior art with respect to novelty and inventive step. In conclusion, there is a lack of unity of inventions, and therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is further reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
